

Music

College of Fine Arts

The School of Music offers the Master of Arts (M.A.) with specialty areas or emphases in musicology or theory; Master of Music (M.M.) with specialty areas in performance (including choral or instrumental conducting), composition, sacred music, music therapy, or music education; Doctor of Musical Arts (D.M.A.) with specialty areas in performance (including choral or instrumental conducting), or composition; and the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) with specialty areas in musicology, music education or theory. The applicant for the master's degree is expected to have earned an appropriate undergraduate degree, and the applicant for the doctoral degree is expected to have earned an appropriate master's degree or equivalent.

Graduate work is also provided for persons seeking Rank I and Rank II state certification in music education. Requirements for Rank II coincide with those for the M.M. in Music Education; requirements for Rank I may be completed by a planned and approved 30 semester hour program in addition to Rank II requirements or 60 semester hours of planned and approved graduate credit, including the master's degree. The URL for the School of Music Home Page is <http://finearts.uky.edu/music>.

Entrance Requirements

Applicants must meet the entrance requirements of The Graduate School as well as those of the School of Music. Applicants to all graduate programs in music are required to take entrance exams in the areas of music theory (aural and written) and music history and literature. (Note: Music therapy students will take a discipline-specific music theory and music history exam, due to the specific requirements designated by music therapy professional/accrediting bodies.) Applicants to programs in music education, music therapy, and voice, as well as doctoral study in musicology, are also required to take an additional exam in the proposed area. Those seeking a degree in performance must audition as well. Applicants can send a video/DVD of a recent concert for preliminary audition. Live auditions should be scheduled by contacting the faculty member in charge of the student's performing area, or filling out an audition request form on the School of Music web page. The purpose of these exams and the audition is to discern the applicant's readiness to pursue graduate work in music. Students who have graduated from or are currently enrolled as undergraduate students at the University of Kentucky are not exempt from these entrance requirements. Applicants must demonstrate a minimum level of skills and knowledge on the entrance exams in order to be accepted into the program. For students who are accepted, the exams indicate whether they need review classes in specific areas before entering into graduate-level course work, but a willingness to take review classes is not a substitute for satisfactory performance on the exams. All applicants should take the exams seriously and attempt to do their best work. Admission of students who need review classes will be admitted conditionally until these requirements have been completed, which should be before the student has completed 12 graduate credit hours, or registration for additional classes may be blocked. Entrance examinations are usually scheduled on 4 dates per year at the School of Music: in November, in January/February, in February/March, and in June. The applicant should notify the Music Graduate Office of his/her intention to take the entrance exams and confirm the date at least four weeks prior to the exam. There is no charge to take the exams on the scheduled dates. Students who cannot arrange to take the exams on one of these dates may hire a private proctor to give them the exams at a mutually convenient time.

Note: Persons not applying for financial assistance may choose any of the above dates. Persons who meet the GPA and GRE score requirements for Non-Service Fellowships and wish to be considered for these awards must take the examinations (and the audition if applicable) no later than the first Saturday in February. Those applying for teaching assistantships may choose to take the examinations in November or February for application for the subsequent fall semester. Those wishing to begin studies during a summer session must take the examinations no later than the first Saturday of March. Applicants should first complete the online application at the Graduate School homepage, then complete the online application at the School of Music website, prior to doing the audition and entrance exams.

General Requirements for Master's Degree

Foreign Language Requirement: The Master of Arts degree requires a reading knowledge of one foreign language, preferably French or German. Voice Performance majors in the Masters of Music are expected to have taken at least one year each of undergraduate level German, French, and Italian (or the equivalent by petition to the Director of Graduate Studies in the School of Music) as a prerequisite for degree study. If deficient, a student must enroll in language courses each semester of study until the deficiency is removed. Language classes must be passed with a letter grade of B or above.

Thesis Requirement: The Master of Arts degree requires a thesis (Plan A: see general requirements). For the Master of Music degree in Performance, a public recital acceptable to the faculty is required in lieu of a thesis. For the Master of Music degree in Composition, a composition of major proportions, acceptable to the composition-theory faculty and publicly performed, must be submitted in lieu of a written thesis. For the Master of Music in Music Education, students may choose the thesis option (Plan A), or the non-thesis option which requires taking six hours of additional course work instead (Plan B).

A final comprehensive examination is required for each program. At least fifty percent of all course credits must be at the 600 level or above.

Doctor of Musical Arts

The Doctor of Musical Arts program offers opportunity for fullest development as a performer, composer, or teacher of music performance or composition. Technical excellence is a prerequisite for admission into the program; doctoral study emphasizes work in adjunct areas of music, related fields, and research as they enhance and support the major area.

Language requirement differs among performance areas. If required and if deficient, a student must enroll in language courses each semester of study until the deficiency is removed. Language classes must be passed with a grade of B or higher.

Recital requirement differs among performance areas. At least three weeks prior to each recital, the student must do a pre-recital hearing for three members of the applied faculty who must sign and submit a Pre-Recital Hearing Form to be placed in the student's file. The program content of the recitals will be established in cooperation with the student's Advisory Committee. Immediately after each successful recital, a Recital Approval form must be signed by three members of the Advisory Committee and placed in the student's file. The student should complete at least one recital prior to taking the Qualifying Exam.

If the Major Professor of a student in a performance program is an Associate Member of the Graduate Faculty, he/she can serve as co-chair and another member of the Advisory Committee, who is a Full Member of the Graduate Faculty, shall serve as chair. If the major professor of a student in a performance program is not a member of the Graduate Faculty, a Full Member of the Graduate Faculty shall serve as chair and major academic professor; the performance teacher shall serve as an additional, non-voting member of the committee.

DMA students are required to pass a Qualifying Exam (QE) upon completion of all coursework. Part I of the QE (History and Theory, 3 hours each) will be given as a common exam early every semester. Students should pass Part I prior to taking Part II of the QE which is the Specialty Area portion (six hours) of the QE. Part III of the QE is the oral exam (2 hours maximum) and should be taken last, after completing Parts I and II successfully.

Requirements for doctoral projects differ among the performance areas. The Project for the D.M.A. specializing in Composition will consist of two parts. Part 1 is a large-scale original composition. The candidate is responsible for arranging a public performance of the work. Part 2 is an in-depth analysis and discussion of the composition. The composition and in-depth written analysis and discussion are to be approved by the Advisory Committee in the same manner as a Ph.D. dissertation. For specific requirements in each performance area, please consult the Graduate Music Handbook posted at <http://finearts.uky.edu/sites/default/files/Uploads/Documents/GRADUATE%20HANDBOOK.pdf>.

Doctor of Philosophy

The School of Music offers courses and research opportunities leading to the Ph.D. Applicants must meet the entrance requirements of The Graduate School as well as those of the School of Music. Applicants must submit a master's thesis or a research paper of sufficient scope and quality to demonstrate competence in research and clarity of expression. The basic core requirements beyond the master's degree are as follows:

Research Methods: MUS 618 (if not taken at the master's level)	(3)
Music History and Literature beyond the master's	(9)
Advanced Music Theory beyond the master's*	(6)

Total	(27)

(24 hours if competency in Research Methods is accepted by the Musicology faculty.)

*MUS 578 cannot be used to fulfill this requirement.

There is no specific requirement in a minor area, but such work may be required by a student's Advisory Committee if it is essential to the major research or field of concentration.

Satisfaction of language requirements will conform to The Graduate School policy; however, specific languages required will vary with individual options. The foreign language requirement(s), if applicable, must be met by the end of the first full year of study in the Ph.D. program. The student's Advisory Committee must be formed and appointed by the Dean of the Graduate School prior to advance registration for the student's third semester. The dissertation topic and prospectus must be approved by the Advisory Committee; the dissertation itself must be the result of original research which adds to or modifies what has previously been known on the subject. Qualifying examinations should be taken no later than one semester after the completion of course work. A student is admitted to candidacy for the Ph.D. degree only after meeting the language requirement(s) and passing the qualifying examinations.

The Ph.D. in music may be pursued in one of three areas: music education, music theory, or musicology. The program outline for each area beyond the core requirements is given below; the student's Advisory Committee advises on and plans the actual program of study.

Music Education

Music in Higher Education (MUS 762)

Psychology of Music (MUS 770)

At least one graduate level course in statistics

Knowledge of acoustics (PHY 140 or equivalent); Knowledge of specialized research in music education (MUS 600 or equivalent). These requirements must be met by the end of the first year of doctoral study. A foreign language is not required but student must show competency in computer use and statistical understanding for research purposes.

Additional courses in music education or adjunct subjects as recommended by the Advisory Committee.

Additional courses in music theory or adjunct subjects as recommended by the Advisory Committee

A reading knowledge of French, German, or a language appropriate to the research interest

Musicology

Medieval and Renaissance Notation (MUS 700)

Proseminar in Musicological Methods (MUS 703)

Additional courses in musicology or adjunct subjects as recommended by the Advisory Committee

A reading knowledge of at least two foreign languages, normally German and either French or Italian

Combined M.A./Ph.D. Program in Musicology & Ethnomusicology

The First Two Years

The first two years of study provide training in the practice and methodology of musicology and ethnomusicology. A minimum of 30 hours of graduate credit is required during the first two years of graduate study.

Second-Year Review; Examinations and Research Paper

During the second year of graduate study the student will be expected to:

- Take an examination designed to test the student's knowledge of European and American music and of music theory. This will include a four-hour written examination in general music history, and a four-hour written examination in music theory.
- Write a paper on a topic of the student's choice, and with approval of the student's advisor. This third-term paper should explain and review a selected topic in musicology or ethnomusicology, survey and evaluate the available literature on the topic, and identify lines of inquiry which remain to be pursued. The recommended length for this paper is 25-30 pages of prose, in addition to the bibliography, with appendices and musical examples as needed. Three copies of the paper are to be submitted to the Division of Musicology, which may require revisions before final acceptance.

The departmental evaluation of all students in the second year is based on course work completed to date, the paper, the results of the preliminary exam, and the student's prospects for continued success in the field. The department's judgment is a collective one. If the evaluation is favorable, the student may continue in the Ph.D. program. A student who fails the common exams may receive a terminal M.A.

through the following steps: a) completing 36 hours of course work, b) submitting an acceptable 2nd-year paper, in lieu of thesis, and c) establishing a Masters' committee and passing an oral exam.

A student who successfully completes the 2nd-year review, which includes the common exams and the 2nd-year paper, but fails the special area Qualifying Examination, is eligible to receive a terminal M.A. without further academic work, as long as performance on the oral portion of the qualifying exam is considered to have been satisfactory as an M.A. final examination. The advisor and two other members of the doctoral committee will be named as the M.A. committee to complete the necessary paperwork.”

“A student who passes the qualifying exams but does not successfully complete the dissertation and/or defense will be eligible to receive the M.A. without further work of any kind, except for applying for the degree. The advisor and two other members of the doctoral committee will be named as the M.A. committee to complete the necessary paperwork, certifying the 2nd-year paper in lieu of the thesis and the doctoral qualifying examination in lieu of the M.A. final exam.

Students entering the program with M.A. degrees in Musicology from the University of Kentucky or other institutions may make a written petition to the departmental faculty to participate in the Second-Year Review during their first year of residency. Note: In order for the petition to be considered, the student must have been admitted without the requirement of any remedial work, and must have taken an appropriate research method class as part of the master's program.

The Third Year

During the third year of study, the student will take additional courses in musicology, ethnomusicology, theory, and any appropriate cognate areas within or outside the music program; a limited number of these courses may be independent study in the area of specialization.

The student will take the qualifying examinations, which will consist of a special field examination in musicology or ethnomusicology, the general sense and limits of which have been discussed in advance with the prospective dissertation advisor and the student's advisory committee. If necessary, the committee may also retest areas in which the second-year exams demonstrated deficiencies.

The Dissertation

As soon as possible after the successful completion of Qualifying Examinations, the student should submit a dissertation proposal to his/her Advisory Committee. The student will defend this proposal at a meeting of the committee, and is expected to submit any required revisions within two months.

The dissertation itself will meet all the requirements of the University of Kentucky Graduate School, and will be defended following the usual Final Examination procedures.

All students in the combined M.A./Ph.D. program must demonstrate reading knowledge of two foreign languages. One of these is usually French or German, but they may also be other languages appropriate to the students' research interests. The Graduate School offers reading knowledge courses in French, German, and Spanish.

Advising

Students in the M.A./Ph.D. program will work initially with an individual advisor, and then with an Advisory Committee. For further details on the program see the program webpage: <http://finearts.uky.edu/music/musicology>.
