Check <http://gradschool.uky.edu/calendar> for semester deadlines. Within 2-3 days of submission, the Graduate School will review your thesis and check the format to ensure that it meets all requirements. Note, the last few weeks of the semester are peak periods for thesis submission, so it is best to submit your thesis as soon as possible so that the final version can be accepted by the semester deadline. Your thesis must be prepared in conformity with the instructions published by the Graduate School. Specific formatting instructions and sample pages can be found at <http://gradschool.uky.edu/thesis-dissertation-preparation>.
